U.S. LATINO/A STUDIES PROGRAM

U.S. Latino/a Studies is devoted to the study of Mexican Americans, Puerto Ricans, Cuban Americans and other groups of people living in the United States who trace their ancestry to the Spanish-speaking countries of Latin America, and who comprise the largest and fastest growing ethnic groups in the United States. U.S. Latino/a Studies is to be distinguished from Latin American Studies; the latter focuses on people living in Latin America. The methodologies of study in U.S. Latino/a Studies are cross-disciplinary, drawing from the methods established in psychology, anthropology, sociology, political science, economics, religion, philosophy, history, literary studies, and other fields.

The minor in U.S. Latino/a Studies is an excellent addition to any major. Virtually any professional, in any field, working throughout the United States, can benefit from a greater understanding of the Latino/a communities in our nation.

Students can also build a major in U.S. Latino/a Studies within the Interdisciplinary Studies major administered by the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences.

Interdisciplinary Studies Major, Track in U.S. Latino/a Studies

Students can work with the US LS program director and the Interdisciplinary Studies adviser to develop an individualized major program. In addition to meeting the general requirements for the Interdisciplinary Studies major, students wishing to complete a track in U.S. Latino/a Studies must complete a minimum of 36 credits in the area of U.S. Latino/a Studies. At least 15 of the 36 credits must be in courses numbered 300 and above and 6 credit hours must be earned at the 400-level. Students must also meet the upper-level communication proficiency requirement by taking English 302 or 314.
